When asked how she sees her personal calling, Debra responded:

The greatest honor and joy in my life is when God called me to teach the His Word through Bible classes, conferences, retreats, workshops, and biblical counseling to faithful women that seek His Word for the answers to a faithful relationship with Him. There is no way I could do such a calling except through the Holy Spirit inspires all of us through what God says God says. It is important in this day to ascertain the truth as it is clearly presented in the Bible. He has disciplined me to study the Word from the original text and to allow the Word to say what God meant it to say. I am surrendered to His Sovereignty and the Holiness of His precious Word for the building up of His children.
